Vorwort des Herausgebers

Die ehemalige Benediktiner-Reichsabtei Ochsenhausen, heute Sitz der Landesakademie für die musizierende Jugend in Baden-Württemberg, war seit Jahrhunderten ein großer Förderer der Musik und stand mit verschiedenen Musikzentren in einem aktiven kulturellen Austausch, der durch den umfangreichen überlieferten Notenbestand dokumentiert wird. Dieser Tradition fühlen wir uns als landeszentrale Einrichtung verpflichtet. Das hier von Christoph Schönherr veröffentlichte Magnificat – The Groovy Version of OX erfüllt diese Verpflichtung in zweierlei Hinsicht: Zum einen erinnert das Werk an das rege Musikleben der ehemaligen Benediktiner-Reichsabtei Ochsenhausen, in deren inspirierenden Räumlichkeiten heute die Landesakademie für die musizierende Jugend ihren Sitz hat, und zum anderen reiht sich diese Komposition in die jahrhundertalte Tradition der Magnificat-Vertonungen ein, richtet jedoch den inhaltlichen Fokus auf eine aktuelle Thematik und spannt in seiner musikalischen Sprache durch die Verwendung der Idiomatik des Jazz und des Funk den Bogen zur heutigen Lebenswelt. Als Akademie sehen wir unsere Aufgabe darin, mit der Veröffentlichung solcher Werke neue Impulse für das aktive Musizieren zu geben. Das Werk ist in seinem Schwierigkeitsgrad so angelegt, dass es qualifizierten Schul- und Laienchören als Repertoirestück dienen kann.

Foreword by the Editor

The former Imperial Benedictine Abbey, Ochsenhausen, which today houses the State Academy for Young Musicians in Baden-Württemberg, has for centuries been a great patron of music that has been associated closely with various centers of musical activity in a cultural exchange well documented by the voluminous amount of music which has been handed down. Today, as a central state institution, we feel obligated to continue this tradition. The Magnificat – The Groovy Version of OX, by Christoph Schönherr, fulfills this tradition in two respects: First of all, the work recalls the active musical life of the Imperial Benedictine Abbey, in whose inspiring confines the State Academy for Young Musicians today finds its home. Secondly, this work takes its place among the centuries-old tradition of Magnificat settings and in so doing focuses on themes of today while reaching out to the present day by encompassing the modern musical idioms of jazz and funk. As an Academy, we feel it is our duty to give new impulse to active musical life through the publication of such works. This work is on a level of difficulty which makes it aptly suitable for performance in the choral repertoire of qualified school as well as amateur choirs.

Anmerkungen zu Text und Komposition

Der Magnificat-Text wurde im Laufe der Musikgeschichte von vielen Komponisten vertont. Er steht als der „Lobgesang der Maria“ im Lukasevangelium (Lk 1,46–55). Als letzter Teil der Vesperae fand er Eingang in die Liturgie und ist somit nicht nur in der Adventszeit zu singen.

Das Magnificat erfreut sich in der Befreiungstheologie Lateinamerikas besonderer Beliebtheit und dies vor allem deshalb, weil hierin ein Gott besungen wird, der sich für Gerechtigkeit und Freiheit in der Welt einsetzt. (Lk 1,51–53 „Er hat Macht geübt mit seinem Arm; er hat zerstreut, die hochmütig sind in ihres Herzens Sinn; er hat Gewaltige von den Thronen gestoßen und Niedrige erhöht. Hungerige hat er mit Gütern erfüllt und Reiche leer hinweggeschickt“). Das Lukasevangelium beginnt also mit einem hochpolitischen Text, der seine Brisanz bis heute nicht verloren hat.

Mich hat für die Komposition besonders die Polarität des Textes angesprochen. Zum einen drückt er die Freude Marias über ihre Schwangerschaft aus, zum anderen entwirft Maria ein kühnes Gottesbild: Ein Gott, der mit fast alttestamentarischer Strenge und Härte für Gerechtigkeit auf Erden sorgt. Die Person der Maria in meiner Komposition hat nichts gemein mit jenem verklärenden und entrückenden Marienkult, der bewusst jede Realitätsnähe verhindert. Meine Musik will eine starke Frau zeichnen, die einerseits vor Glückseligkeit jubelt und s(ch)wingt (viele 6/8-, 12/8- und Swingteile), andererseits aber in der Formulierung ihres Gottesbildes eindeutig Partei ergreift für die Armen und Bedürftigen. Hierfür verwende ich Stilelemente des Rock und Funk. Das Gloria greift in Bezug auf die große Bedeutung, die der Magnificat-Text für die Befreiungstheologie hat, mit der Samba-Rhythmik ein Charakteristikum lateinamerikanischer Musik auf.

Die Gleichzeitigkeit von lateinischem und englischem Text in der Komposition soll einerseits deutlich machen, dass es sich hierbei um eine sehr, sehr alte Geschichte handelt, die aber andererseits ihre Aktualität nicht verloren hat. Sie wird in den Idiomen der Rockmusik und des Jazz erzählt. Nur in den Sätzen 1, 4 und 8 partizipiert die Solistin am lateinischen Text des Chores, in den anderen Sätzen singt Maria in einer (Ton-)Sprache unserer Zeit. Der Chor übernimmt in den solistischen Teilen mehrfach einen „Background“, der allerdings keineswegs unbeteiligt ist, vielmehr macht er sich Marias Gedanken zu eigen und verleiht ihnen eigenen Ausdruck. In den Teilen ohne Solistin steht der Chor für das Volk, musikalisch also in der Tradition der sog. Turba-Chöre. Kern der Komposition bilden die beiden Mittelsätze (Nr. 4 „Fecit potentiam“ und Nr. 5 „Deposuit potentes“). Sie sind durch den musikalischen Gedanken zur Textstelle „Dispersit superbos“ leitmotivisch mit den anderen Sätzen des Werkes verknüpft.

Die Komposition in der Fassung für gemischten Chor schrieb ich in den Jahren 2004/2005 für das 10-jährige Jubiläum des internationalen Festivalchores C.H.O.I.R., der sich jedes Jahr in Ochsenhausen zu einer Arbeits- und Konzertphase trifft. Etliche Teile meiner Magnificat-Vertonung entstanden in den Mauern des ehemaligen Benediktiner-Reichsstifts, die heute die Landesakademie für die musizierende Jugend in Baden-Württemberg beherbergen. So erklärt sich auch der Untertitel des Werkes „The Groovy Version of OX“.

Nachdem in den letzten Jahren immer wieder Chorleiterinnen und Chorleiter eine Version für gleiche Stimmen nachgefragt haben, ist nun zusätzlich diese Fassung für Frauenchor (SSAA) entstanden. Sie ist mit dem Orchestermaterial der SATB-Fassung kompatibel.

Remarks on the text and the composition

The text of the Magnificat has been set by many composers during the course of musical history. As the "Song of praise of Mary" it appears in St. Luke's Gospel (Luke 1:46–55). As the last part of Vespers it has a place in the liturgy, to be sung not only during Advent.

The Magnificat is particularly popular in the context of the liberation theology of Latin America, above all because here God is hailed as the champion of justice and freedom (Luke 1:51–53 "He has shown strength with his arm, he has scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts. He has put down the mighty from their thrones, and has exalted the humble and meek. He has filled the hungry with good things, and the rich he has sent empty away"). Thus St. Luke's Gospel begins with a highly political text, which has not lost its cutting edge to this day.

I have been especially influenced by the polarity of the text. On one hand it expresses Mary's joy at her pregnancy, but on the other Mary presents a bold image of God: a God of almost old Testament sternness in his demand for justice on earth. The person of Mary in my composition has no connection with the transfigured and remote cult of Mary which consciously hinders any approach to reality. My music depicts a strong woman, who rejoices in her happiness and also swings (many 6/8, 12/8 and swing passages), but on the other hand who in formulating her concept of God clearly stands up for the poor and needy. Here I use stylistic elements of rock and funk music. The Gloria highlights the great significance which the words of the Magnificat have for liberation theology, with a samba rhythm featuring the style of Latin American music.

The simultaneous use of Latin and English words in this composition makes it clear that this is a very, very old story, but one which has not lost its actuality. It is told in the idioms of rock music and jazz. Only in the 1st, 4th and 8th movements does the soloist join in singing the Latin words of the choir. Musically, in the other movements, Mary sings in a contemporary style. The choir often provides a background to the solo sections, by no means uncommitted but taking up Mary's thoughts and expressing them in their own way. In the sections without the soloist the choir represents the people, in the musical tradition of so-called turba choruses. The heart of the composition is in the two middle movements (No. 4 "Fecit potentiam" and No. 5 "Deposuit potentes"). These are linked with the other movements of the work, in the manner of the leitmotiv, through musical ideas expressed in the passage "Dispersit superbos".

I wrote this composition as a version for mixed choir in 2004/2005 for the 10th anniversary of the International Festival Choir C.H.O.I.R., which meets every year at Ochsenhausen for workshop and concert sessions. Many parts of my setting of the Magnificat were composed within the walls of the former Benedictine Reichsstift, now the State Academy for Young Musicians in Baden-Württemberg. This is the reason why the work is subtitled "The Groovy Version of OX."

Since choral conductors have repeatedly requested a version for equal voices in recent years, this version for female choir (SSAA) has now been additionally created. It is compatible with the orchestral material of the SATB version.
