Choral Music composed by Women

47 compositions for Coro SATB

Coro SATB (divisi)

Franziska de Gilde (Editor), Mary Ellen Kitchens (Editor), Jan Schumacher (Editor)

A real novelty in the German-speaking world, Choral Music composed by Women features a total of 47 works for mixed choir.

Women composers have always made significant contributions to the choral repertoire. Numerous hidden gems for mixed choir are ready and waiting to be performed in concerts and church services. This choral collection spotlights female composers from Europe, North and South America and Israel, ranging from the Renaissance period to young composers of the present day. Many were pioneers of their time, who fought against strong opposition for acceptance as professional composers. You will discover beautiful sacred and secular works in a variety of styles from psalm settings, madrigals and romantic choral songs to experimental pieces, spirituals, canons and simple songs for choral events and community singing as well as contemporary music for chamber choirs. Mostly based on English or German texts, the works deal with a wide spectrum of themes, even reflecting current social issues. A fascinating repertoire from five centuries of music-making that features many unfamiliar names!

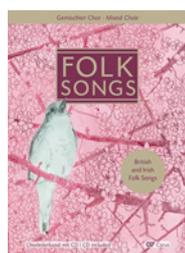

- 47 sacred and secular compositions for SATB choir, some works are divisi and some with organ/piano accompaniment
- 45 women composers born between 1540 and 2000
- Most pieces of easy to moderate difficulty; only a few divisi passages for male voices
- Featuring commissioned works and pieces published for the first time
- Most texts in English or German
- From madrigals to simple songs for community singing
- Separate editions available in print and digital form

In cooperation with the Deutscher Chorverband e.V.

Pietro Mascagni (1863–1945)

Messa di Gloria

in Fa maggiore
(Latin)

Soli TB, Coro STB (SAB), 2 Fl, Ob, 2 Clt, Fg, 2 Cor, 2 Tr, 2 Trb, Timp, Gran Cassa, Piatti, Tamtam, Arpa, 2 Vl, Va, Vc, Bc / 55 min / 2 (easy to medium)

Andreas Gies (Editor)

Looking for some operatic drama for your church choir? Then the Messa di Gloria for soloists, choir and orchestra by Pietro Mascagni is just up your alley. Acclaimed throughout the world for his brilliant Cavalleria rusticana, Mascagni wrote this Mass at the same time as his famous one-act opera.

Composed in a simple but effective style, the Mass features elegant, lyrical melodies sung by tenor and bass, supported by the choir in the more lively movements. The famous “Elevazione”, with its poignant violin solo, turns the work into a true masterpiece. With a moderate level of difficulty and requiring modest forces, the Messa di Gloria is suitable for both professional and amateur ensembles. This extremely beautiful work is also within the reach of youth choirs and orchestras.

Our edition by Italian conductor Andreas Gies is based on the composer’s autograph score. Featuring – as always with Carus – a critical report and an informative preface, this edition with full score, performance materials and vocal score, presents the work for the first time in modern engraving.

Mascagni wrote his Messa di Gloria for a three-part choir in which children (ragazzi) and altos (contralti) sing one vocal line, which is also performed by a (high) tenor and a bass. For today’s mixed choirs, it makes sense to have the high alto voices perform the relatively low soprano part (Ragazzi e Contralti) while the lower alto voices join the tenor line. This makes the work suitable for smaller choirs lacking a strong tenor section. The vocal score and choral score display the middle vocal line both in octavated treble clef (tenor) and in normal treble clef (for the altos) so that everyone can sing from their usual clefs.

- Palestrina's 500th birthday in 2025!
- His most famous Mass

Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina (1525–1594)

Missa Papae Marcelli

(Latin)

Coro SATTBB / 25 min / 3 (medium)

Francesco Saggio (Editor)

Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina's Missa Papae Marcelli is one of the most famous works of the Renaissance age. And it's not just the early 17th-century myth that this piece "saved" polyphonic sacred music from being banned by the Council of Trent which makes a performance of the Mass so appealing. Even apart from this legend and the work's great history, it still captivates today due to the skilled setting of the text combined with a complex, multi-layered polyphony.

This edition by Italian musicologist Francesco Saggio is not only based on the earliest printed versions of the Mass, which first appeared in the 16th century, but also on two handwritten copies made during Palestrina's lifetime that have been preserved in sacred collections. The edition also includes a second "Agnus Dei", which until today has only been found in the manuscripts. The aim of the edition is to reproduce the earliest version of the score while at the same time revising it to meet modern performance requirements.

The individual parts of the mass are also available in separate editions (Carus 27.906/10 - /70), offering choirs who are not (yet) familiar with the period a good opportunity to explore Palestrina's style.

Marc Rigaudière (Editor)

With his composition L'Aurore (Dawn) of 1905, Maurice Ravel made his fifth and final attempt to win the coveted "Prix de Rome" of Paris's Académie des Beaux-Arts. The fact that he was once again eliminated in the preliminary round caused something of a stir, with the so-called "Ravel affair" triggering a historic scandal and discussions about the jury's lack of expertise and impartiality.

Despite the strict requirements of the competition, Ravel created a singular and harmonically rich work on the given text by Édouard Guinand, exploiting the timbral possibilities of the orchestra in striking fashion. No heavy demands are placed on the choir. Carus also offers free pronunciation aids for rehearsal.

This first Urtext edition of the work is based on the composer's autograph score. A vocal score and performance material are also available.

Frank Höndgen (Editor)

As Kapellmeister at Dresden's royal theater, Carl Maria von Weber's primary task was to establish a German opera. However, it was also part of his duties to supply music for church service every three weeks. This assignment was gladly accepted by the opera composer Weber, who regarded his artistic talents as a "gift from heaven". His Missa sancta No. 2 (also known as the "Jubel-Messe") was composed for the service held to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of the Saxon royal couple Friedrich August I (1750-1827) and Marie Amalie Auguste (1752-1828) in January 1819. The festive nature of the Mass is confirmed by the offertory "In die solemnitatis", whose inclusion follows court practice in Dresden at the time.

Due to its relative brevity, the "Jubel-Messe" is also well suited for inclusion in a liturgical framework today. The vocal parts in this Mass can easily be mastered by amateur choirs for festive occasions in church or in concert. The critical Urtext edition also reflects the practical needs of performers: Modern orchestral parts are now available for purchase for the first time and a vocal score is also available.

■ Bach's source of inspiration for the Christmas Oratorio

Johann Sebastian Bach (1685–1750)

Let us watch him, let us guard him

Hercules at the crossroads (Dramma per musica)

BWV 213 (German/English)

Soli SAATB, Coro SATB, 2 Cor, Ob/Obda, Ob, 2 VI, 2 Va, Bc / 45 min / 3 (medium)

Uwe Wolf (Editor), Paul Horn (Continuo realization), Daniel Ivo de Oliveira (Continuo realization)

What does Bach's Christmas Oratorio have to do with Hercules? More than you might think at first glance. In the fall of 1733, with the eleventh birthday of the Saxon Crown Prince Friedrich Christian fast approaching, Johann Sebastian Bach composed the secular cantata Lasst uns sorgen, lasst uns wachen (Let us watch him, let us guard him), which he then performed on the prince's birthday (September 5) with the Collegium Musicum in the garden of Zimmermann's coffeehouse in Leipzig.

The libretto by Picander tells the mythological story of the young Hercules, who, forced to choose between lust and virtue, naturally chooses the "right" path. The fact that Hercules is intended to represent the young Crown Prince is already suggested in the opening choral movement before becoming explicit in the closing chorus.

Most of the choruses and arias in the cantata are familiar today through their incorporation by Bach into his later Christmas Oratorio, BWV 248. For example, the festive opening chorus "Lasst uns sorgen, lasst uns wachen" (Let us watch him, let us guard him) forms the opening chorus "Fallt mit Danken, fallt mit Loben" (Bow ye, thankful, kneel and praise ye) of the New Year's cantata. While the musical impact is no doubt altered by the unfamiliar thematic embedding, the audience is sure to make many pleasant rediscoveries!

- Kaminski's musical response to Nazi persecution
- A condemnation of hatred and inhumanity

Heinrich Kaminski (1886–1946)

Die Messe deutsch

O wirre Welt
(German)

Soli SS, Coro SSATB / 11 min / 4 (medium to difficult)

Barbara Grossmann (Editor)

“O wirre Welt!” (Oh world confounded!) This is how Heinrich Kaminski's self-penned Kyrie text opens his a cappella Mass. Composed in 1934 as a reaction to the Nazi's seizure of power, the work remained unfinished. Under the oppressive regime, Kaminski simply could not find the words for a German paraphrase of the Latin plea for peace on earth: “et in terra pax”. On several occasions the composer fled to Switzerland to escape Nazi brutality. His music is a cry of despair and a call for God's mercy on the eve of the Second World War as well as a personal response to the inhumanity and godlessness of his time. Like a beacon we hear the “Gloria” in praise of God.

Although the Mass was left unfinished, it offers a complete Kyrie with a Gloria call and thus can be performed both as a protest against hatred and ignorance and, of course, a plea for love and hope.

- Modern vocal score of Mahler's exceptional "Symphony of a Thousand"
- Designed to aid the rehearsal process

Gustav Mahler (1860–1911)

Sinfonie Nr. 8

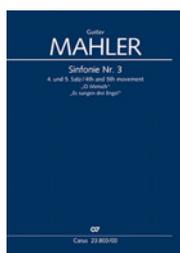

(Latin/German)

Soli SSSAATBarB, Coro SATB/SATB, Knabenchor, Picc, 4 Fl, 4 Ob, Eh, 4 Clt, Bclt, 4 Fg, Cfg, 8 Cor, 8 Tr, 7 Trb, Tb, Timp, Perc, Celesta, Pfte, Harmonium, Org, 2 Arp, Mandoline, 2 Vl, Va, Vc, Cb / 80 min

Nicholas Kok (Vocal score arranger)

While Gustav Mahler's oeuvre features many large-scale works, he surpassed himself with the 8th Symphony, composed in the summer of 1906. Mahler described this work – exceptional in its form, design, size and success – as his "opus summum". The seemingly disparate texts, taken from the medieval hymn "Veni creator spiritus" and the closing scene of Goethe's Faust, are interwoven by means of shared thematic material and bear witness to the composer's tremendous spiritual and religious aspirations. The already massive forces of a large symphony orchestra are buttressed throughout the symphony by three choirs and eight soloists.

Experienced conductor and accompanist Nicholas Kok has created a practical vocal score to aid the rehearsal process for singers and accompanists. Without unnecessarily simplifying the orchestral parts and by paying close attention to the voice leading and the bass line, Kok has reduced the dense original score while creating the most realistic sound possible for the rehearsal room. Rehearsal marks in the standard orchestral parts have been incorporated so that the edition can be used in conjunction with existing scores.

Tota pulchra es, Maria

Offertory from the Missa sacra op. 147

In his Missa sacra, Op. 147, the Protestant Robert Schumann included the solo offertory hymn “Tota pulchra es, Maria”, entirely in the Romantic Catholic tradition of devotion to Mary. This wonderfully intimate movement for solo soprano, solo cello and organ can also be performed on its own, e.g. in church service or at a Marian feast.

- Joyous fanfares and profound reverence
- Large-scale masterpiece now accessible to smaller choirs

Antonín Dvořák (1841–1904) / Joachim Linckelmann (arr.)

Te Deum

Arrangement for chamber orchestra (arr. Linckelmann)

op. 103 (Latin)

Soli SB, Coro SATB, Fl, Ob (auch Eh), Clt, Fg, Cor, Tr, Trb, Timp, Perc, 2 Vl, Va, Vc, Cb / 20 min / 3 (medium)

In 1892, Dvořák was honored to receive a commission from New York to compose a festive cantata to mark the 400th anniversary of Christopher Columbus's discovery of America. Within a short space of time, he had composed his impressive Te Deum, which in four contrasting sections joyfully interprets the ancient hymn of praise.

This version by the experienced arranger and orchestral musician Joachim Linckelmann enables smaller ensembles to perform the work. In his edition for soloists, choir and chamber orchestra, he reduces the winds from the original 18 to just 7. The string parts are identical to the original score, although these can also be reduced in size if required. The vocal parts (soloists and choir) are completely unchanged, so that the singers can also use the vocal scores and choral scores from the Carus Urtext edition.

Antonio Vivaldi (1678–1741) / Christiane Rosiny (*1978) (arr.)

Gloria in D

Arranged for choir with one male voice (arr. C. Rosiny)
RV 589 (Latin)

Soli SSA, Coro SSAB, Ob, Tr, 2 Vl, Va, Bc / 29 min / 3 (medium)

The Gloria in D, RV 589, is one of Vivaldi's best-known sacred works. This Carus edition – which was actually our first ever publication – has certainly made a major contribution to the now enormous popularity of this choral work, which, with its great inventiveness, is typical of the composer's work (Carus 40.001/50).

Christiane Rosiny's arrangement of this masterpiece for SSAB choir is aimed at mixed ensembles with a limited number of male voices as well as youth choirs. While soprano and bass remain practically unchanged, the middle voices are arranged for soprano and alto. There are sensible suggestions for cuts should the size of the work prove to be an obstacle. These will help shorten the rehearsal time while preserving the unique character of the individual sections. A vocal score and a choral score are available in addition to the full score. The orchestral parts are taken from the original version.

- Organ version of an expressive Christmas work
- Individual sections can easily be performed in church service

Josef Gabriel Rheinberger (1839–1901) / Birger Petersen (*1972)
(arr.)

The Star of Bethlehem

Arrangement for choir and organ (arr. B. Petersen)
(German/English)

Soli SB, Coro SATB, Org / 48 min

Rheinberger's large-scale Christmas cantata Der Stern von Bethlehem (The Star of Bethlehem) is one of the composer's most popular and best-known works. It retells the Christmas story in nine lyrical scenes – from the angels' glad tidings and the shepherds at the manger to the journey of the three Wise Men from the East.

To make this poetic, colorful and (in the best sense of the word) "romantic" work accessible to even more vocal ensembles, Birger Petersen has created an arrangement for soloists, choir and organ. The cantata can thus now be performed by smaller choirs in concert or within a church service, either in its entirety or in excerpts. The choir can use the vocal score and choral score from the orchestral version. While this new arrangement can be played on a two-manual organ with pedalboard, larger instruments with richer registrations are recommended.

The composer, organist and Rheinberger expert Birger Petersen is also Professor of Music Theory in Mainz.

Max Reger (1873–1916)

Reger-Werkausgabe, Vol. II/5: Songs V (1906–1916)

The fifth volume of the “Songs and choral Works” module of the Reger-Werkausgabe (RWA) comprises the songs composed between June 1906 and May 1915 as well as the vocal scores of the orchestral songs An die Hoffnung (To hope) op. 124, and Hymnus der Liebe (Hymn of love) op. 136. Alongside additional songs from Schlichte Weisen (Simple ways) op. 76 (Volumes III–VI), this new volume features occasional and commissioned works. Reger wrote the song collections opus 98 and 104 for the publishers N. Simrock and Otto Forberg; other individual pieces were specially written for magazines and music albums (WoO VII 38–41) or were personal gifts (WoO VII 42–44).

The Three Duets op. 111a, for soprano and alto, were composed for a concert. Some of the works have a biographical background: The two final volumes of Schlichte Weisen (Simple ways) are settings of children’s poems for Reger’s two adopted daughters, Christa and Lotti, while he wrote the Fünf neue Kinderlieder (Five new children’s songs) op. 142, for his godchildren.

In January 2008 the Max-Reger-Institut (MRI) in Karlsruhe began publishing a scholarly-critical edition of the works of Reger (RWA), supported by the Mainz Academy of Sciences and Literature. As a Hybrid Edition, it is exploring new approaches in editorial techniques.

The digital offer belonging to the volume is published in an online portal.

Max Reger (1873–1916)

Reger-Werkausgabe, Vol. II/10: Works for male voice choir / women's or children's choir

(German)

Volume 10 of the "Songs and choral Works" module contains all of Reger's compositions for a cappella male-voice and female-voice choir and (with piano accompaniment) children's choir. By far the largest number are for male-voice choir. After some initial hesitation, Reger tried his hand at arranging folk song for male voices before going on to create substantial original compositions with the collections opus 38 and, above all, opus 83, which includes a version of the so-called "Hebbel Requiem".

The works for female voices are composed in three to five parts. The three movements for one or two-part children's choir are the only pieces to feature piano accompaniment. Even if the compositions for female voices and especially children's choir can rather be categorized as 'occasional works', they are well worth discovering.

In January 2008 the Max-Reger-Institut (MRI) in Karlsruhe began publishing a scholarly-critical edition of the works of Reger (RWA), supported by the Mainz Academy of Sciences and Literature. As a Hybrid Edition, it is exploring new approaches in editorial techniques. The digital offer belonging to the volume is published in an online portal.

Wolfgang Hochstein (*1950)

Hasse Studies, special series vol. 5: Thematic-systematic Catalog of instrumental works circulated under the name of Johann Hasse

(German)

Around the middle of the 18th century, Johann Adolf Hasse was one of the most famous and highly esteemed composers in Europe. He owes his fame primarily to his operas but, in addition to secular cantatas and numerous church music works, he also left behind a considerable repertoire of instrumental music, including orchestral works, concertos and compositions for chamber music ensembles.

To date only some parts of Hasse's output have been catalogued in critical listings. The present catalog aims to expand upon this work by registering and systematically preparing all of Hasse's instrumental music.

(Latin/English)

Coro SSAA, Solo A, 2 Tr/Flügelhorn, Sax/Fl, 2 VI, Va, Vc, Pfte (Keyboard), E-Bass (Cb), Perc (2 Spieler*innen) / 40 min / 3 (medium)

Christoph Schönherr is a respected expert in the field of jazz and pop choirs and he is a much sought after choral composer. He has written of his work: "I have been especially influenced by the polarity of the text. On one hand it expresses Mary's joy at her pregnancy, but on the other Mary presents a bold image of God: a God of almost old Testament sternness in his demand for justice on earth. My music depicts a strong woman, who rejoices in her happiness and also swings (many 6/8, 12/8 and swing passages), but on the other hand who in formulating her concept of God clearly stands up for the poor and needy. Here I use stylistic elements of rock and funk music."

This version for SSAA choir (Carus 27.208/50) was created at the request of various conductors of women's choirs. It is compatible with the performance material of the SATB version.

■ Now new specially arranged for female-voice choir

Lucia Birzer (*1995)

Afterwards

Award winning at "females featured" competition
(English)

Solo SMsA, Coro SSMsMsAA / 6 min

A text by the American poet Sara Teasdale (1884–1933) forms the basis for the composition Afterwards by choir director and composer Lucia Birzer. The poem There will come soft rains deals with our earth in a post-human age. Teasdale wrote this work as a reaction to her experiences of the First World War. For Lucia Birzer, the motivation to set these words to music is the climate catastrophe. Musically, the work is meditative and reflective. Initially, three soloists tell the story almost like recitative, while the choir intones atmospherically in the background. Then the choir takes over and brings the narrative to a dramatic climax: "Not one would mind, neither bird nor tree if mankind perished utterly." In closing, the piece returns to the pensive, subdued mood of the beginning.

- Accessible and easy to perform, even for amateur choirs
- Current topic "Our Voice for Our Planet"
- Setting of a poem by a well-known American female poet
- Dramatically effective structure
- Prize-winning entry in the chamber choir category at the "females featured" composition competition of the Baden-Württemberg Choir Academy 2023

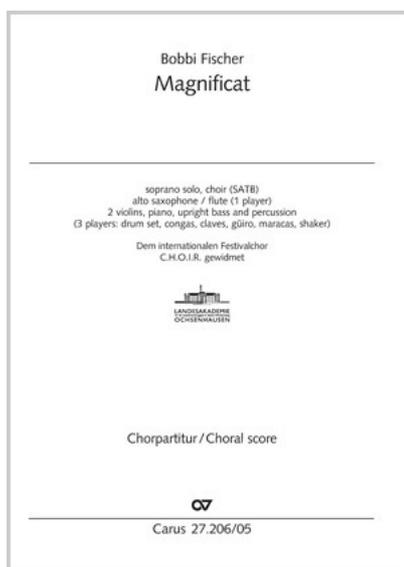

A version for mixed choir is also available (Carus 9.286/00).

Magnificat

(Latin)

Solo S, Coro SATB (mit/with divisi), Alt-Sax/ Fl (1 Bläser), 2 VI, Pfte, Cb, Perc (3 Spieler: Drum Set, Congas, Claves, Güiro, Maracas, Shaker) / 33 min / 4 (medium to difficult)

The Magnificat was commissioned in 2017 by the Landesakademie für die musizierende Jugend in Baden-Württemberg for the Choir of the International Choir Festival C.H.O.I.R. In this setting of the hymn of praise from St Luke's gospel, we hear the solo soprano as the voice of Mary. The work draws on the wealth of Afro-Caribbean rhythms. The first movement gives a hymn-like expression to the message of the text with the tremendous energy of the Cuban salsa. There are many examples of the relationship between word and music throughout the work. An example of this is the passage "Deposuit potentes" ("He hath put down the mighty from their seat and hath exalted the humble and meek"). In this passage, a 9-part canon vividly portrays the words "et exaltavit" and "deposuit" through chromatic passagework in contrary motion extending over an octave.

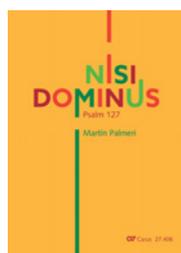

With this work composer Bobbi Fischer has created a musical bridge between Europe and South America as well as stylistic links to his Missa latina (Carus 28.007). The rhythm group (piano, bass, drums, and percussion) is identical; new instrumental colors from the "Latin world" are added with two obbligato violins and one reedplayer (alto saxophone/flute) – in the place of the bandoneon and violin used in the Missa latina.

The Magnificat is also available on CD (Carus 83.483).

Missa latina

(Latin)

Solo S, Coro SATB (mit Stimmteilungen u. Chorsoli), VI, Bandoneon (Akkordeon), Pfte, Cb, Drums, Perc / 35 min / 4 (medium to difficult)

The Missa latina is a complete setting of the Latin Mass for solo soprano, large mixed choir (SATB divisi as well as soloists from the choir) and a band consisting of violin, bandoneon (accordion), piano, double bass, drums and percussion. The word "latina" not only refers to the Latin text, but also to the musical style which makes use of Latin-American rhythms. Thus elements from Argentinian tangos stand side by side with Caribbean rhythms and Latin jazz with enough space provided for instrumental improvisations.

Te Deum

(Latin/English/German)

Soli SB, Coro SATB (divisi), [Gde/congregation], Tr, Tsax, Pfte, Bass, Glsp, Vib, Drums, Perc, Timp / 40 min / 3 (medium)

After Missa Latina and Magnificat, Te Deum is now the third major composition by musician and composer Karl Albrecht "Bobbi" Fischer published by Carus. Fischer's musical roots lie in classical music, which he combines with jazz elements and Latin American rhythms.

All three styles appear in the Te Deum. In keeping with the proclamation "Te Deum laudamus" (We praise thee, O God), the work begins with the festive (Cuban) energy, propelled by timpani and trumpet; the choir can also be heard imitating fanfares. Later, a cappella choruses become a recurring element, in which phrases set as Gregorian chant are presented against an ever-changing chordal background. But the score also features elements of swing and rhythm & blues, frenetic choral outbursts of joy, as well as moments of mystic contemplation. Moreover, the instrumentalists are given ample opportunity for improvised solos. Interwoven into the otherwise Latin text is the well-known German chorale Großer Gott, wir loben dich. Here several verses can be sung with the congregation; alongside the original German text, the score features the English translation "Holy God, we praise thy name".

- An exciting combination of classical choral music with elements of jazz and Latin American music
- The congregation can take part in the performance (chorale)
- Singers can choose between Latin/German or Latin/English
- Varied mix of styles
- An enrichment of our crossover program

Perpetuum mobile

Songs from the Codex Buranus
 (Latin)

Soli SBar, Coro SATB, S-Sax (Melodieinstr in C), Pfte, E-Bass (Cb), Perc, [2 Vl, Va, Vc, Cb] / 85 min / 3 (medium)

The Codex Buranus, the famous collection of medieval poems and dramatic texts from Benediktbeuern Monastery, still contains many intriguing secrets today. Who wrote the texts, for which occasions, and above all, for whom? In his work Perpetuum mobile composer Peter Schindler has set 44 texts from the Codex to create a new 90-minute song cycle in 4 acts for soloists, chorus, jazz quartet and string ensemble (ad lib.).

The message

The title reflects the overall concept of the work: the Creation set in motion the formation of the world, which remains in motion for ever. All the events recur in ever-new variations.

The music

The music uses many different styles. Homophonic movements and fugues are found alongside pop and jazz-inspired pieces. Echoes of the Notre Dame style can also be heard, with influences from organum and writing in parallel fifths. The songs are for four-part mixed choir, soprano and baritone soloists, and a jazz quartet. A string ensemble can be added to this line-up.

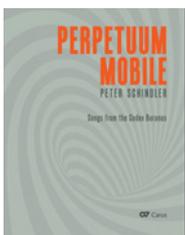

The texts

The 315 songs and dramatic texts from the 13th century were published completely for the first time in 1847 in an edition entitled "Lieder aus Benediktbeuern" – in Latin: Carmina burana. The contents include moral-satirical songs, spring and love songs, medieval courtly songs, and sacred dramas. The Codex Buranus is recognized as an international cultural treasure. Its importance lies in the international range of the collection, which extends beyond linguistic and cultural boundaries. It continues to impress today as an invaluable testimony to medieval culture and European history, for the texts remain breathtakingly true to the present day.

Since its rediscovery the multi-faceted texts have continually been set anew: The Allgemeines Deutsches Kommersbuch of 1895 included the drinking song "Ecce gratum et optatum". Carl Orff came across the texts in 1935 and reworked them into his choral work of the same name. Other ensembles working in the historical performance practice tradition have endeavored to make reconstructions of the original melodies from the fragmentary surviving neumatic notation. Peter Schindler's composition is a new musical approach to the multi-layered Latin poems in a 21st century musical language.

The audio samples below are excerpts from the world premiere of the work on 14 November 2021 in the Mozartsaal of the Liederhalle in Stuttgart. The performers are Jochen Woll (conductor), Giorgia Cappello (soprano), Felix Rumpf (baritone), Peter Lehel (saxophone), Markus Faller (percussion), Dirk Blümlein (bass), the Kammerchor Baden-Württemberg and the Kurpfalzphilharmonie. The composer Peter Schindler sits at the piano.

- The world's first conducting app
- English version to be published in 8/2024

Conductor's Coach. The App

Like any art, conducting requires the practitioner to possess a complete set of skills. The individual movements of a legible and efficient conducting technique must be well practiced. Conductor's Coach. The App is the first such tool for aspiring choir conductors to practice, hone and professionalize their technique. After all, not everyone has a patient ensemble to support and accompany their first attempts at conducting.

The app teaches the basics of a good conducting technique through almost 70 tutorials. The described techniques can be practiced by viewing the training videos of experienced conductor and choral conducting professor Jan Schumacher. The app's various functions allow you to study your own movements in detail and thus correct any mistakes. As learning progresses, musical examples from the choral literature are integrated to teach conducting techniques not only in the abstract but realistically in a live performance situation.

The conducting app is equally useful for aspiring choir directors, church musicians and all conductors and school musicians who want to refresh and train their existing skills.

- 69 tutorials on conducting techniques and 73 training videos to practice complex sets of movement
- Tools for effective learning: webcam overlay, activate metronome, show beat pattern, mirror video
- By and featuring Jan Schumacher, the experienced conductor and professor for choral conducting
- No installation required for the browser-based application: we recommend practicing on a PC or tablet

Test the free trial version for 24 hours to familiarize yourself with all the topics and tools included in the Conductor's Coach!

Arnold Schönberg (1874–1951)

Peace on Earth

op. 13 (German/English)

Coro SSAATTBB, [Pfte/Org for rehearsal only] / 9 min / 5 (difficult)

Friede auf Erden op. 13 is regarded as Arnold Schoenberg's last tonal composition and is one of the few choral works of the Second Viennese School. On the same day that he completed his op. 13, Schoenberg made the first sketches for his 2nd String Quartet, a key work in atonal music. Although Schoenberg later orchestrated Friede auf Erden, he intended the piece to be performed unaccompanied.

Due to insufficient rehearsals, the planned premiere in 1908 was canceled at short notice. Franz Schreker took on the next attempt in 1911 and requested a string orchestra accompaniment from Schoenberg to support the choir, particularly with the intonation. Nowadays, Friede auf Erden is usually performed a cappella by powerful chamber choirs. With carus music, the demanding voice leading in the context of the multi-layered sound can be practiced excellently - so that nothing stands in the way of rehearsals and a successful performance.

Simply practice. Anytime. Everywhere.

Whether at home on your tablet or PC or on the road on your smartphone: with carus music, the Choir Coach, you always have your choral works with you to practice! With the carus music choir app, you can listen to your score together with a first-class recording on any device and easily practice your own choir part with a coach. With carus music, your concert preparation is easy, efficient and fun to master!

Beethoven's Ninth was hotly debated amongst listeners and music critics at first. But his setting of Schiller's "Ode to Joy" in the final movement is now sung by classical music fans and many others as a matter of course. However, the catchy theme is deceptive, and the choral writing is in fact much more difficult than it looks. Dizzy heights and frequent contrasting tempo changes demand absolutely everything from the choral singer: here, every detail has to work, for this movement is ultimately the crowning conclusion of the 70-minute symphony.

The Carus Choir Coach offers choir singers the unique opportunity to study and learn their own, individual choral parts within the context of the sound of the entire choir and orchestra. For every vocal range a separate Audio or MP3 containing each choir part is available. The Carus Choir Coach is based on recorded interpretations by renowned artists who have performed the work from carefully prepared Carus Urtext editions. Each choir part is presented in three different versions:

- Original recording
- Coach: each part is accompanied by the piano, with the original recording sounding in the background
- Coach in slow mode: the tempo of the coach slows down to 70% of the original version – through this reduction passages can be learned more effectively.

Gabriel Fauré (1845–1924)

Requiem. Version for symphony orchestra

op. 48 (Latin)

Soli SBar, Coro SATB, 2 Fl, 2 Clt, 2 Fg, 4 Cor, 2 Tr, 3 Trb, Timp, 2 Vl, 2 Va, 2 Vc, Cb, Arpa, Org / 40 min

Flemish Radio Choir (Ensemble), Brussels Philharmonic Soloists (Ensemble), Hervé Niquet (Conductor), Andrew Foster Williams (Soloist)

Gabriel Fauré's Requiem is the key work among the sacred compositions by the French master. Already during the composer's lifetime, it proved very successful with the audiences, and this success remains undiminished all over the world to this day. In contrast to more "theatrically" conceived settings, it was Fauré's intention to evoke a peaceful and conciliatory mood with his work. Even though the choral parts are very suitable for most choir singers due to their melodic accessibility, many passages are harmonically extremely sophisticated and require careful preparation in rehearsal.

The Carus Choir Coach offers choir singers the unique opportunity to study and learn their own, individual choral parts within the context of the sound of the entire choir and orchestra. For every vocal range a separate Audio or MP3 containing each choir part is available. Felix Mendelssohn Bartholdy (1809–1847)

The First Walpurgis Night

Ballad for chorus and orchestra
MWV D3 (German/English)

Soli ATBarB (ATB), Coro SATB, Pic, 2 Fl, 2 Ob, 2 Clt, 2 Fg, 2 Cor, 2 Tr, 3 Trb, Timp,
Gran Tamburo e Piatti, 2 Vl, Va, Vc, Cb / 36 min / 3 (medium)

Goethe's dramatic ballad The First Walpurgis Night inspired Mendelssohn to write a magnificent and vivid portrayal of the conflict between an old heathen community and the new aspirations of Christianization, between belief and superstition on both sides. In 1833 Mendelssohn had his ballad premiered, but he decided to make far-reaching revisions before he finally had the work published in 1844.

Goethe's text is not without its challenges for the singers, especially in the chorus of the druid guardians "Kommt mit Zacken und mit Gabeln". If you want to take part in this wild ride, you should have practised well before the rehearsal!

The Carus Choir Coach offers choir singers the unique opportunity to study and learn their own, individual choral parts within the context of the sound of the entire choir and orchestra. For every vocal range a separate Audio or MP3 containing each choir part is available. The Carus Choir Coach is based on recorded interpretations by renowned artists who have performed the work from carefully prepared Carus Urtext editions. - Coach in slow mode: the tempo of the coach slows down to 70% of the original version – through this reduction passages can be learned more effectively.

Joseph Haydn (1732–1809)

Missa in tempore belli

Mass in time of war
Hob. XXII:9 (Latin)

Soli SATB, Coro SATB, Fl, 2 Ob, 2 Clt, 2 Fg, 2 Cor, 2 Tr, Timp, 2 Vl, Va, Vc/Cb, Org /
38 min / 3 (medium)

One of his later works, Haydn's Missa in tempore belli, composed in 1796, is also referred to as the "Paukenmesse" (Kettledrum Mass) through the use of timpani in the Agnus Dei. For the Vienna premiere, Haydn added flutes, clarinets and horns to the score, so that in terms of sound the soloists and the chorus have to hold their own against a truly large orchestral apparatus. In this case, practicing with the Carus Choir Coach is of course recommended for a good vocal presence.

The Carus Choir Coach offers choir singers the unique opportunity to study and learn their own, individual choral parts within the context of the sound of the entire choir and orchestra. For every vocal range a download containing each choir part is available. The Carus Choir Coach is based on recorded interpretations by renowned artists who have performed the work from carefully prepared Carus Urtext editions. Joseph Haydn (1732–1809)

Missa in Angustiis

Nelson Mass
Hob. XXII:11 (Latin)

Soli SATB, Coro SATB, 3 Ctr, Timp, 2 Vl, Va, Vc/Cb, Org, [Fl, 2 Ob, 2 Clt, Fg, 2 Cor]
/ 38 min

When Haydn wrote the Nelson Mass ("Missa in Angustiis") in less than eight weeks in 1798, he had written no masses in the preceding 14 years, but instead, had composed numerous symphonies and chamber music works. In the Nelson Mass, which was written in the same period as The Creation and The Seasons, a great deal is on offer musically, as might be expected: powerful choral sections alternate with virtuosic solo parts. So performances are always thrilling for audience and musicians alike, and always an experience.

The Carus Choir Coach offers choir singers the unique opportunity to study and learn their own, individual choral parts within the context of the sound of the entire choir and orchestra. For every vocal range a separate Audio or MP3 containing each choir part is available. The Carus Choir Coach is based on recorded interpretations by renowned artists who have performed the work from carefully prepared Carus Urtext editions. Joseph Haydn (1732–1809)

Missa in B flat

Theresienmesse
Hob. XXII:12 (Latin)

Soli SATB, Coro SATB, 2 Clt, 2 Ctr, Timp, 2 Vl, Va, Bc, [Fg] / 37 min

Haydn's Missa in B flat major has gone down in music history as the "Theresienmesse", even though the reason for this designation is unclear. In order to give fullest justice to this beautiful work and to be able to offer the widest possible range of expression in the interpretation, it is essential to practice each individual voice well. The efforts are rewarded: the choristers experience the sheer joy of making music, making a lasting impact on the listener.

The Carus Choir Coach offers choir singers the unique opportunity to study and learn their own, individual choral parts within the context of the sound of the entire choir and orchestra. For every vocal range a separate Audio or MP3 containing each choir part is available. The Carus Choir Coach is based on recorded interpretations by renowned artists who have performed the work from carefully prepared Carus Urtext editions. Josef Gabriel Rheinberger (1839–1901)

The Star of Bethlehem

Christmas cantata
op. 164 (German/English)

Soli SB, Coro SATB, 2 Fl, 2 Ob, Eh, 2 Clt, 2 Fg, 2 Cor, 2 Tr, 3 Trb, Timp, 2 Vl, Va, Vc, Cb, Org, Arpa / 48 min / 3 (medium)

Der Stern von Bethlehem is based on a text by Rheinberger's wife. The composer created an impressive portrayal of the well-known story in nine movements. His masterly compositional style demands a confident, but precisely-judged choral sound, particularly in the louder, more imposing movements. There is always the threat of insecure hesitancy here.

Please note that the performance of the work used as a basis for this Coach is in a slightly shortened version in movement V.

The Carus Choir Coach offers choir singers the unique opportunity to study and learn their own, individual choral parts within the context of the sound of the entire choir and orchestra. For every vocal range a separate Audio or MP3 containing each choir part is available. The Carus Choir Coach is based on recorded interpretations by renowned artists who have performed the work from carefully prepared Carus Urtext editions. Each choir part is presented in three different versions:

- Original recording
- Coach: each part is accompanied by the piano, with the original recording sounding in the background
- Coach in slow mode: the tempo of the coach slows down to 70% of the original version – through this reduction passages can be learned more effectively.

Performers: Rita Streich (soprano), Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau (bariton) – Chor des Bayerischen Rundfunks, Symphonie-Orchester Graunke – Robert Heger

Georg Friedrich Händel (1685–1759)

Te Deum for the Victory of Dettingen

Dettingen Te Deum
HWV 283 (english/german)

Soli ATB, Coro SSATB, 2 Ob, Fg, 3 Tr, Timp, 2 Vl, Va, Bc / 38 min

In keeping with the victorious mood, Handel often splits the chorus into five voices (with divided sopranos) for passages of pure homophony. When the choir declaim as one, the effect is of joyful celebration. To start each phrase on the right note, it is essential to be familiar with the orchestral interludes. The cantabile movements, such as No. 3, can be particularly tricky to perform: The vocal leaps in these demanding choral-soprano sections become much easier if you can hear the underlying harmonies while practicing. The same is true for No. 5.

The Carus Choir Coach offers choir singers the unique opportunity to study and learn their own, individual choral parts within the context of the sound of the entire choir and orchestra. For every vocal range a download containing each choir part is available. The Carus Choir Coach is based on recorded interpretations by renowned artists who have performed the work from carefully prepared Carus Urtext editions. Each choir part is presented in three different versions:

- Coach in slow mode: the tempo of the coach slows down to 70% of the original version – through this reduction passages can be learned more effectively.

Performers: Dorothee Miels (soprano), Ulrike Andersen (alto), Mark Wilde (tenore), Chris Dixon (basso) – Alsfelder Vokalensemble, Concerto Polacco – Wolfgang Helbich

- Songs by Richard Strauss for choir
- Featuring the famous Adagietto from Mahler's 5th Symphony arranged for choir
- Marking the 150th birthday of Arnold Schoenberg

Clytus Gottwald (1925–2023) (arr.) / Richard Strauss (1864–1949)

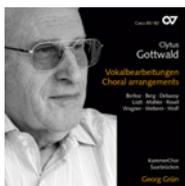

Richard Strauss & Gustav Mahler: Transcriptions by Clytus Gottwald - Arnold Schönberg: Friede auf Erden

Kammerchor Stuttgart (Choir), Frieder Bernius (Conductor)

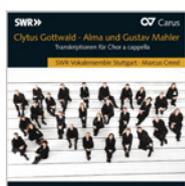

Clytus Gottwald possessed the special gift of translating the most diverse compositions for solo voice and instrumental accompaniment into a pure, polyphonic choral sound. He was rightly dubbed by music critics the "father" of modern choral singing.

This recording by the Kammerchor Stuttgart under the direction of Frieder Bernius features ten songs by Richard Strauss into which Gottwald breathes a choral soul with seemingly infinite creativity. These are complemented by a stunning 16-part transcription of the "Adagietto" from Gustav Mahler's 5th Symphony. Listeners are also treated to an original composition, namely Friede auf Erden (Peace on Earth), one of the few choral works of the Second Viennese School, presented here in the year of Arnold Schoenberg's 150th birthday. With this program, the Kammerchor Stuttgart once again confirms its position as one of the world's leading vocal ensembles.

- Festive Baroque Mass
- Performed using Carus's first edition

Jan Dismas Zelenka (1679–1745)

Missa Gratias agimus tibi

Kammerchor Stuttgart (Ensemble), Hofkapelle Stuttgart (Orchestra), Frieder Bernius (Conductor)

It is the story of a renaissance. Sorely neglected for many years, the music of Jan Dismas Zelenka has in recent decades regained its place on the concert stage thanks to newly edited scores and enthusiastic performers. Born in Bohemia, trained in Prague and later reaching his full maturity in Dresden, Zelenka placed his own unique stamp on the music of his age, already enjoying great admiration during his lifetime.

Having discovered Zelenka early in his career, Frieder Bernius has been a regular interpreter of his music. This recording features the festive Missa gratias agimus tibi of 1730, scored for trumpets and timpani. The 17 short movements of this Mass illustrate Zelenka's ingenuity and technical mastery. The Kammerchor Stuttgart, the Stuttgart Baroque Orchestra and soloists Hannah Morrison, Franziska Bobe, David Allsopp, Thomas Hobbs and Jonathan Sells are conducted by Frieder Bernius.

■ Three newly reconstructed Bach cantatas recorded for the first time

Johann Sebastian Bach (1685–1750)

Friede auf Erden. Reconstructed Bach cantatas

„Ehre sei Gott in der Höhe“ (BWV 197.1) , „Alles, was von Gott geboren“ (BWV 80.1), „Singet dem Herrn ein neues Lied“ (BWV 190.1)

Vocalensemble Rastatt (Choir), Les Favorites (Orchestra), Holger Speck (Conductor), Miriam Feuersinger (Soloist - soprano), Terry Wey (Soloist - alto), Florian Sievers (Soloist - tenor), Sebastian Noack (Soloist - bass)

Johann Sebastian Bach's unfinished works have a very special appeal. The music seems close enough to touch... and yet remains mysterious. What might these pieces have sounded like? Ehre sei Gott in der Höhe (BWV 197.1), Alles, was von Gott geboren (BWV 80.1) and Singet dem Herrn ein neues Lied (BWV 190.1) have survived only as fragments, and yet fascinate us with their musical power.

The opening chorus of the New Year's cantata, BWV 190.1, for example, is one of Bach's most magnificent choral works. Carus has recently published reconstructions of these three cantatas, which attempt to reveal a previously unknown side to Bach. With their nuanced interpretations, the Vocalensemble Rastatt, the baroque orchestra Les Favorites and soloists Miriam Feuersinger, Terry Wey, Florian Sievers and Sebastian Noack, conducted by Holger Speck, show how these works might have sounded under the hand of the master.
